Pearl Buck Sweet Pea
(described on inside cover)

W. ATLEE BURPEE CO.

BURPEE BUILDINGS

PHILADELPHIA, U.S.A.

Burpee's New Early Flowering Sweet Pea

3306 Pearl Buck

After nine years of intensive breeding and selecting, we take pleasure in offering our new Sweet Pea, Pearl Buck, named by special permission of the well-known author.

Pearl Buck Sweet Pea is distinct from any other variety. The front of the standard is a bright and warm, rich rose suffused with a decided warmer, almost orange, tone. The rose deepens somewhat towards the base. The back of the standard is slightly lighter than the front and contains more of the orange suffusion. The standard is often duplexed, nicely waved, and although orange is present, there is no indication of sunburn.

The wings are quite distinctive in form. They curve forward and inward over the keel so that the backs are more conspicuous than the fronts. The backs are pure mid-rose with scarcely a trace of orange, except near the margins. The front of the wings, due to their structure, are quite inconspicuous, and of a rich rose color slightly lighter towards the base.

The general color effect of a bunch of Pearl Buck Sweet Peas is rich rose, particularly pleasing when seen under artificial light, where the lively, warm undertones are brought out. The substance of the flowers is such that they stand shipping well, and last longer than usual when cut.

The plants grow vigorously and bloom profusely. The large flowers are nicely carried in threes and fours on long, wiry stems.

Pearl Buck Sweet Pea was Highly Commended by the Judges at The International Flower Show, New York, March, 1939.

Oz. 85c; 4 ozs. $3.00; 1b. $10.00.

Special Wholesale Prices for Florists

Effective June 1, 1939, all invoices for purchases will be charged at the prices quoted in this Book, unless Special Offers are made by letter or telegram and referred to when order is placed.

There are many varieties of flower seeds which must be sown in the near future. It will pay you to look through this book NOW and send us your order soon.

While seed of perennials can be sown from early spring until early fall, best results are had by sowing the seeds in June. Plants from June sowings will grow quickly during the summer, and be in better condition to withstand the winter than smaller seedlings raised from later sowings.

Make succession sowings of quick-growing annuals to supply flowers in late summer and early fall. Sow seeds of those flowers to be grown on for resale as pot-plants. Later on sow Sweet Pea, Snapdragon, Calendula and other seeds for growing under glass during the winter. Sweet Pea seed may also be sown outdoors in the fall for early blooms next spring, and in mild climates many annuals can also be sown directly outdoors in the fall.

Order your seeds NOW; make sure they are Burpee's—the Best Seeds that Grow.

Burpee's New Early Flowering Sweet Peas for 1939

The five new Sweet Peas offered on these two pages, together with Pearl Buck, shown in color on front cover and described on inside front cover, are exceptionally fine and probably the best selection of new varieties ever put out by us.

3309 World's Fair (Early Flowering)

World's Fair is a truly remarkable early Sweet Pea. It is distinct in color—a light golden cream faintly overlaid with a delicate suffusion of fawn which gives the flowers a delightful light fawn-pink appearance. The fawn suffusion blends to a deeper shade towards the edges, which together with the exquisite rufflings of the petals, adds so much to the delicacy and refinement of the flowers.

Many of the blooms are duplexed, again adding to the attractiveness of this new Sweet Pea. The keel is not prominent and is often shielded by the wings. The flowers are extremely large, well formed and artistically placed in fours on long, substantial stems. Plants are extremely vigorous and while not quite so early flowering as some varieties, World's Fair blooms profusely for a very long time.

We exhibited World's Fair Sweet Pea at many of the flower shows this past spring, and it drew quite a lot of attention, whether seen in daylight or under artificial light. Its fairy-like, graceful ruffings and softness of color appealed to everyone, especially the ladies. World's Fair with its vigorous, healthy growth and long stems is especially fine for use under glass.

Oz. 85c; 4 ozs. $3.00; 1b. $10.00.

3162 Golden Pink (Early Flowering)

The name of this new early flowering Sweet Pea best describes its color but does not do justice to its beauty. The standard of the flowers is a glowing golden or fawn-pink, clear and bright, the back being identical to the front. The lovely, soft golden pink color is distributed evenly over both surfaces, there being no change or variation in shade from the margins to the base. The wings are just a shade lighter than the standard, but the difference in tone is almost imperceptible.

Flowers are large and beautifully formed, many being duplexed and prettily ruffled; stems are long and usually carry four blooms each. Vigor of plants is good and they are very free flowering. Golden Pink is of an outstanding color—lovely at all times and especially handsome under artificial light. As a bunching variety, Golden Pink is second to none.

Oz. 85c; 4 ozs. $3.00; 1b. $10.00.

New Early Sweet Pea, World's Fair

Burpee's New Early Sweet Peas for 1939

3395 White Giant (Early Flowering)

Bill Hoag, manager of our Floradale Farms, sums up his description of this outstanding variety as follows: "White Giant is the best white-seeded early Sweet Pea I have ever seen. It has everything—vigor, stem, large flowers and practically all fours." Jacob Gunther, a well-known Sweet Pea grower, Long Island, N. Y., says, "White Giant is marvelous, the best white in commerce. It makes tremendous, long, thick stems, with mostly four flowers of very large size."

White Giant is not "just another white Sweet Pea." It is outstanding for every feature which distinguishes a quality Sweet Pea from the average variety. The petals are of such heavy substance as to be almost waxy in appearance.

For vigor, form, substance, stem length, placement, size and pure dazzling whiteness, White Giant excels all other white-seeded Sweet Peas. Oz. 85c; 4 ozs. $3.00; 1b. $10.00.

3161 Joseph (Early Flowering)

The color is truly magnificent. When flowers begin to open, they are a rich, deep eosine-pink on white ground with a distinct glow of golden pink in the shadows. As they fully expand, the color becomes a trifle more mellow without losing its vividness and may best be described as a clear, deep but bright salmon-pink, warm and particularly pleasing.

Combined with the lovely color of the flowers is their perfect form and wonderful substance. The standard is held boldly erect and nicely waved; the wings are smooth and well rounded. The beautiful salmon-pink coloring is carried evenly over the entire surface of standard and wings.

Flowers are very large, well placed on long, thin but wiry stems. Plants are vigorous and free blooming. Joseph is a most appealing Sweet Pea.

Oz. 85c; 4 ozs. $3.00;
1b. $10.00.

3160 Blue Jay (Early Flowering)

No other mid-blue early Sweet Pea can equal Blue Jay in the different attributes upon which Quality Peas are judged. Blue Jay outrivals other mid-blues for purity of color and is also the longest stemmed of all. Then, too, the flowers are extremely large and of excellent form, somewhat waved, with many duplexed standards. The sprays usually bear four flowers each, all open at one time and carried with most excellent placement. The plants themselves are most vigorous and extremely free flowering.

The main portion of the standard and wings is a pure mid-blue shade. Around the margins the color is a soft mid-blue that appears as if it were covered with a silvery sheen, a most pleasing effect. Blue Jay is extra fine and the best of the mid-blue early Sweet Peas.

Oz. 85c; 4 ozs. $3.00; 1b. $10.00.

At Burpee's Floradale Seed Farms, our plant breeders carefully select the best individual plants to furnish seed for the next year's sowing. Such plants are "caged" to prevent being mixed by bees.

Burpee's Experimental Grounds and Seed Farms

A glance at the above picture, which shows only a corner of our experimental grounds, will give you some idea of the vast amount of work that goes on each year at our Floradale Seed Farms. By hybridization and the selection of the best individual plants for stock seed, standard varieties are being continually improved and new ones created.

Our staff of expert plant breeders, with keen eyes and a knowledge of just what makes one plant better than another, go through our growing fields, experimental grounds and test blocks day after day selecting those plants which show special merit. To prevent pollenization by bees carrying pollen from some less desirable plant the selected plants are "caged," or, in other words, completely surrounded and covered with a muslin netting as shown in the picture above. Some of the "caged" plants are those which showed signs of a "break" or "mutation" and from which an entirely new or better variety may be developed.

The actual results of this careful work and the many breeding projects conducted both at Floradale and at Fordhook, are seen in the new and improved varieties of flowers and vegetables with which, year after year, Burpee has enriched the gardens of the world.

Burpee's Fordhook and Burpee's Floradale Farms are the most famous Seed Farms in the world. In addition to these great farms and experimental grounds, we grow large acreages of the finest vegetable seeds in Michigan, Wyoming and Idaho, where the climatic conditions are most favorable for growing many varieties. Your success with Burpee's Seeds is traceable directly to the work carried on at our farms. Through careful testing we are able to supply you with seeds of known quality, seeds that can honestly be guaranteed to grow, seeds that will give you the greatest returns from your investment and labor. We know Burpee's Seeds will grow to perfection wherever they are sown; they are world famous.
